The Advice-a-thon is a pro bono event where lawyers sign up for one or more hours to provide summary legal advice to persons living with low income.

This year's legal advice-a-thon will be held indoors at City Hall. In addition to the legal clinics that will be running, we will have meals and snacks for everyone.

Before the event, lawyers will collect pledges to support their volunteerism at ECLC and the programs and services that ECLC delivers.

2. The next page will give a prompt to either log in or set up a new account. For new fundraisers they have to sign up (or you can do it for them), and for anyone who has a CanadaHelps Account (either fundraisers from last year or they have used this for other initiatives), they have to sign in.

Need inspiration? Here is a sample story:

Please assist me in supporting the Edmonton Community Legal Centre and its mission to provide access to justice. On Saturday, September 23, I will participate in the annual ECLC Advice-A-Thon at City Hall in downtown Edmonton. I will provide free legal advice to low and modest income individuals, including the homeless, new Canadians, and people with mental health issues. As you may expect during these times of limited access to justice, the demand for free legal services grows each day. The Edmonton Community Legal Centre is committed to meeting this demand by operating legal advice clinics four evenings a week at their downtown office. It is a testament to the charitable nature of Edmonton's legal profession that over 200 Edmonton lawyers volunteer with the ECLC to provide free legal advice and public legal education to 5000 people each year. Some of these people receive additional free support, advice, and representation from ECLC staff, including six staff lawyers and two articling students. Please help me reach my fundraising goal by donating to this worthy cause and demonstrating your support of my commitment to access to justice and pro bono legal service. Click "Donate to Me" to make your charitable donation. Donations of $20 or more receive a charitable tax donation receipt. Thank you in advance for your generosity.
